

WRITING RETREAT SPACE At ROLLING RIDGE

Leader Focused Writing Retreats:

Are you a writing teacher or mentor writer looking for a site to hold a retreat? Rolling Ridge can accommodate 20 people in single rooms and 40 people in double accommodations and provide all the support you need so you can bring your own program and schedule. The Ridge will provide excellent food, meeting spaces, audiovisual equipment and other resources.

TESTIMONY

We felt welcome from the moment of arrival and every staff person was cheerful and accommodating. The food was beyond anything we hoped for, and I know our vegetarian colleagues loved the options they had. Even before arrival, Alison did a wonderful job of making the planning easy. I couldn't imagine we could have had a better location for our national gathering.

Individuals: Do you crave time and space to write?

Need silence and solitude to start or finish a project? Rolling Ridge offers accommodations and meals, wi-fi, beautiful indoor and outdoor spaces, walking trails, labyrinths, and numerous benches overlooking the lake. Summertime guests can use a kayak or canoe. Wintertime visitors may want to curl up in front of a roaring fire after tromping through the snow. The 2-room Merton Suite gives space to sleep and work, with a small kitchenette where you can prepare your own meals, or you can select from the private retreat menu and have the chef prepare your meals for you. The Ridge Wellness Center has six body therapists who can offer massage, reiki, carnio-sacral, foot reflexology and hot stone massage.

Small Groups:

You can come with your writing/critique group and plan your own balance of individual writing time, focused group work, and free time to kayak, walk the labyrinths or lakeshore trails, or have a massage. Writers can have separate work spaces with a variety of meeting spaces available, all wi-fi equipped.
